for Your Business:

Hospitality

Did you know?

- Bacteria can live for hours on surfaces such as check-in counters, tables, computers, doorknobs, faucets and elevator buttons.
- According to a University of Arizona study, surfaces including desks, phones, keyboards and mice often host more bacteria and germs than public toilets.
- Business and leisure guests view the cleanliness of your public restrooms as an extension of your entire facility.
- Studies show that clean, hygienic restrooms pay off in repeat business and increased employee morale.

Are you rolling out the red carpet for germs?

Leisure and meeting facilities are prime breeding grounds for germs. Protect your guests and employees against cross-contamination with Workplace Essentials fresh approach to restroom hygiene services:
